Re; Docket #98N-1038, "Irradiation in the Production, Processing, and Handling of Food"

To whom it may concern:

Currently, the FDA requires that retail packages (including processed and unprocessed merchandise) or displays of irradiated food include both the logo for irradiation and a statement "treated by irradiation," and that such notices be prominently displayed. This practice should continue unchanged in order to give shoppers a choice between products.

Please take the actions necessary to further consumer right to know.

Thank You,
